Conditions of Controlled Good Registration using a Certificate of Conformity

1. Registration of the Controlled Good by the Registered Supplier (hereinafter referred to as "RS") with the Consumer Product Safety Office, (hereinafter referred to as "the Authority") using a Certificate of Conformity (hereinafter referred to as "CoC"), is pursuant to the Consumer Protection (Safety Requirements) Regulations (hereinafter referred to as "CPSR") or any amendment thereto.
2. The registration of any Controlled Goods shall be valid for a period of 3 years or the period of validity of the Certificate of Conformity of the Controlled Goods, whichever is the shorter period, and may be renewed.
3. The RS shall maintain a technical file on the Controlled Good, which shall include documents and information as may be required, and shall make available the said technical file to the the Authority within 7 days of receipt by the RS of a request from the the Authority for such technical file. The RS shall keep a technical file for a period of not less than 10 years after the registration of the registered Controlled Goods expires or is deemed to be withdrawn under Regulation 24.
4. The documents and information to be included in the technical file shall include, but not be limited to:
  - 1) CoC and/or Supplier Declaration of Conformity (SdoC)
  - 2) Test Report(s)
  - 3) Test Certificate(s)
  - 4) Photograph(s)
  - 5) Instruction Manual(s)
  - 6) Records of the sales/ distribution channels of the registered Controlled Goods, including breakdown of units of Controlled Goods supplied through these channels
  - 7) Non-technical modification(s) to registered Controlled Goods, such as but not limited, to a change in colour which would render information on the latest valid version of their CoC or Supplier Declaration of Conformity (SdoC) inaccurate
  - 8) Technical modification(s) to the registered Controlled Goods, which affect the design, construction, or materials of the Controlled Goods, or which may otherwise affect conformance of the Controlled Goods to the Authority's requirements
5. RS shall ensure the registered Controlled Good is manufactured according to the information found within their technical file. This includes ensuring that the Controlled Good is manufactured in accordance with the technical specifications found within the applicable test report(s) held within the technical file. RS should not delegate or defer this responsibility to the manufacturer or any other third party.
6. If the RS is not the manufacturer of the registered Controlled Good, they shall work with the manufacturer to implement their own quality control system to ensure the continuous compliance with the relevant safety standards and requirements for mass production.
7. If there were technical modification(s) to the registered Controlled Goods, which affect the design, construction, or materials of the Controlled Good, or which may otherwise affect conformance of the Controlled Good to the safety requirements, the RS shall ensure that the modification(s) do not affect the Controlled Good's compliance to the relevant safety standards and requirements as stipulated by the the Authority. This includes re-testing of the Controlled Good to relevant standard(s) and re-certification by a Conformity Assessment Body (CAB). The RS shall also update the Authority prior to supplying the modified Controlled Good through a CAB.
8. The RS shall, when requested by the Authority, provide to it, free of charge, samples of the registered Controlled Good, and have the registered Controlled Good tested, at the RS's expense, to check for compliance to the relevant safety standards and requirements.

9. The RS shall, on direction from the Authority effect a recall of the Controlled Goods and keep the Authority informed of the progress of such recall; and take such steps as may be necessary to inform users of the Controlled Goods of the potential danger of such goods.

10. RS shall strictly comply with regulations 13 and 14 of the CPSR on the affixing of Safety Marks onto the registered Controlled Goods Where the registration of the registered Controlled Good has expired and is not renewed or is deemed to be withdrawn under regulation 24, the Registered Supplier shall take all necessary steps to remove, eradicate or obliterate the Safety Mark from such goods.

11. The RS shall indemnify the Authority fully against any loss or damages suffered by the Authority arising from or as a result of registering the Controlled Good.

12. Any application for renewal of registration of the Controlled Good should be made in good time (advisably not less than 3 months before the registration of the Controlled Goods expires). In the event that insufficient time is granted to the Authority to process the application for renewal, the RS may be directed to suspend supply of the Controlled Good if the registration has expired pending renewal.
